

Shop Foreman Needed at Solar Startup

Come be Part of the Solar Revolution: Economical Clean Energy out of Berkeley and MIT.

Job Description: RawSolar is looking for someone who is an experienced do-it-all sort of person that is familiar with the industrial resources in the bay area. The ideal candidate is someone who is very passionate about renewable energy and solar in particular. We are building a fun and dynamic work environment that is constantly changing and growing. We need someone who will be excited to join our team, but also bring significant experience.

1. Experience with construction and hands-on manufacturing, concrete and rebar foundations, plumbing, and electronics
2. Someone local and knows places to get things done - suppliers, machine shops, pattern makers, etc. Extensive familiarity with bay area suppliers and resources.
3. Available to work in the east bay (we're in the process of negotiating a lease)
4. Full-time preferred, but part-time possible given excellent qualifications
5. Available to start in about a month
6. Computer skills a plus
7. Excellent communication skills
8. Good at working with a dynamic and diverse team of engineers
9. 10-15 years work experience
10. High-volume manufacturing experience a plus

To learn more about RawSolar visit www.raw-solar.com. Please send resumes and cover letters to careers@raw-solar.com with the subject line: Shop Foreman

